

RUSSELL R. SHIPPEE PRESENTS
BetheBESTYouCanBe.net

Russell R Shippee

Dear Russell,

Today the Web site is live for your viewing pleasure.

Today is also the official launch of Our Journey Is Our Work and the related Living My Life On Purpose e-workbook.

A number of you have already purchased the book and for that I am grateful. Also, the many wonderful responses has been most gratifying spurring me on. As you may know I wrote the book for my family and then was encouraged to publish it.

If you have not purchased the book and wish to do so, today is the day. If you have and want to buy another, today is the day. If you do not want to, please don't. It is that simple. There is absolutely NO obligation.

Quote

"Do that which you fear and the death of the fear is certain"

Mark Twain

At the end of this letter is a link to the special offer and bonus page. During the launch, others have joined me in mailing to their mailing lists, and those people will receive the offer you will see. They will also have the opportunity to sign up for this newsletter. It is anticipated that over 500,000 people will view this offer.

The value is that, in addition to the book(s), the others have offered bonus gifts which you can download. Some may well be a value for you. Please look at them and see. If so, take advantage of it. There is something for everyone.

Quote

"If you think the grass is greener on the other side, try watering your own lawn"

Peggy McColl

Starting next week the newsletter will be in its normal format. There will be one or more articles, quotations, positive focus, and fun. No, it will not be promoting a product.

Next week I hope to obtain the rights to allow you to download a copy of a famous old book without any cost. Ideally, we can do this. The objective is to create value and to give you a smile.
